

Protecting the boundary of freedom

WHAT IS THE SOCPA ZONE?

The Serious Organised Crime and Police Act of 2005 defines an area, no more than 1 mile around parliament within which freedom of speech is limited unless permission is granted by the police.

20 questions to protect your freedom

YES

NO

1. Do you believe in democracy? -----
2. Do you believe people should obey the law? -----
3. Do you believe terrorism is wrong? -----
4. Do you support the troops fighting to protect your freedom? -----
5. Do you believe in freedom of speech? -----
6. Do you believe a police force is necessary? -----
7. Should the Police focus on serious, organised crime? -----
8. Should our laws protect the victims of crime rather than the rights of suspected criminals? -----
9. Should those who keep the country going be allowed to do their job without harassment? -----
10. Should the police be allowed to listen to the telephone conversations of suspected terrorists? -----
11. Do you believe "If you have nothing to hide you have nothing to fear"? -----
12. Do you have nothing to hide? -----
13. Would you be happy if the police read your email and listened to your telephone conversations? -----
14. Do you realise they are probably doing it already? -----
15. Do you believe that some civil rights should be sacrificed for the greater good? -----
16. Do you believe that there should be some limits to freedom of speech? -----
17. Should the limit to freedom of speech be there? -----
18. Do you believe that cake can be used in a subversive manner? * -----
19. Do you not have any copies of Vanity Fair upon your person? * -----
20. Would you like to join us? -----

<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

* You may not believe it, but, our amazing police force has had the foresight to detect (and arrest) subversives simply by noticing that they were carrying cake, or that they had in their possession copies of dangerous literature (like Vanity Fair). This kind of forward thinking security force means that, despite the constant threat of terrorist attack (Britain is the No. 1 All-Quaida target), we can all rest easily at night.

Anyone answering NO to any of the above questions should be marked as suspect, with possible terrorist tendencies. Approach with caution.

PROBABLE SUBVERSIVE

